POST #19-13

Mid-Level Leadership

Specifically designed for sheriff's deputies that are currently in mid-level leadership positions or preparing for this role, attendees will learn the differences between the role of the first line supervisor and the mid-level leader. This course will expand the officer's knowledge beyond basic management techniques and move them toward understanding the responsibilities of a mid-level leadership role. Many of the specific topics in this course have come directly from the "New Sheriff's School" that is presented every four years to newly elected sheriffs. This course is a fantastic opportunity to expose your mid-level leadership team to training topics important to their growth as mid-level leaders in your sheriff's office.

The instructors will be CTAS subject matter experts who presented at the 2018 New Sheriff's School: John Rose, CTAS Criminal Justice Consultant, and Jim Hart, CTAS Jail Management
